MONDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1862

The War News

In consequence of the irregular transmission of telegraphic news, we have received no dispatches from the field of important action since Wednesday evening last, the latest dates being to the 18th inst From the San Francisco papers of the 21st, we learn that the telegraphic line is again down East of Salt Lake It is a matter of impossibility to keep the whole length of the great overland line in perfect working order at all times The length is so great and the liabilities to interference are so numerous that we cannot expect to receive regular daily communications All should realize the fact that the reception of such important news as is now looked for from the Atlantic States, even once or twice a week, is a decided improvement upon what the people of this Coast have been accustomed to realize The time was not long since when if we receive news from the States within six weeks, we all considered it quite refreshing and of the very latest dates, therefore, we should be content to wait with patience whenever an unavoidable breakage should happen in the telegraphic line

But what we desire more particularly to speak about is the not unfrequent and we may say, significant fact that whenever there is a delay of a day or two in the reception of war news, certain wise acres and prophecying disloyalists immediately begin to imagine and then circulate the report that the Union forces have been badly whipped, or that some terrible disaster has befallen the Federal troops, or that the rebels have surely gained a decisive victory, which accounts for the failure to receive dispatches We have heard several of these ready ill wishers recently prophecying upon our street corners that they knew McClellan was badly whipped before Richmond and that the Union troops had suddenly met with a terrible set-back or Richmond would have long since been taken. They eagerly catch at every little disconnected or apparently disjointed report in the telegraphic items and magnify it to mean something terrible They are constantly on the watch to pick up every intimation, be it ever so slight, that our troops had not been entirely successful in every undertaking, and at once proclaim that the rebels have gained a powerful advantage over the Unionists "The wish is father to the thought,"—and the desire to rejoice at the success of rebels constantly excites them to imaginations the most absurd But we rejoice to record the fact that thus far these unfaithful supporters of our Government have had but little to predicate their wonted suspicions upon, and that thus far the cause of the Union has met with extraordinary success—all things considered By latest news we have the cheering intelligence that all things are moving steadily on towards the final accomplishment of the great work of suppressing treason and vindicating the honor, reputation and power of our glorious Union That we may occasionally meet with reverses is to be expected, but we maintain that there never has been a contest of such magnitude before engaged in by any nation, where success has so frequently crowned the efforts of those who supported the right We recognize in this the overruling Providence of a Divine power who will forever protect and favor the most holy cause Our cause is just and will prevail

Military —We learn that Fort Umpqua has been entirely abandoned, and that the remaining detachment of troops stationed at that post are now on their way to Vancouver, having left Corvallis on Friday They may be expected to-morrow

---

Personal —Rev T Starr King arrived in this city last evening by Overland Stage from Sacramento. We may expect to be favored with an exhibition of the powers of his eloquence in a day or two

---

Secession Coolness —On the Fourth of July a party of Secessionists turned the stars and stripes wrong side up on the school house in Potter Valley, Mendocino county Subsequently the flag was righted by Union men and the Secessionists had the impudence to go to Ukiah and ask the District Attorney if they could not obtain redress for the insult!

The S F Herald says that an amateur acrobat of that city has made a bet of $500 that he can perform the zampillerostation feat and at the same time turn a double somersault between the second and third trapeze The money is up and the time fixed for the performance of the rival of the Hanlons

Supreme Court, July Term, 1862

The following are the decisions made by the Court

Josiah L Parish plff in error vs. the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Co deft in error

Held, That a settler under the Donation Law upon a full compliance with its provisions becomes vested with a fee simple title to the land settled upon before patent issues

Held, That a bond for a deed duly executed acknowledged and recorded, containing words of grant and covenant for quiet possession is in effect a conveyance

Held, That the members of a corporation are competent witnesses in a case to which the corporation is a party

Held, That the said Company is entitled to the exclusive use of the water brought by it from the Santiam river to Salem

Held, That in proceedings for partition, persons having liens upon the property who are served with process and do not answer, waive their liens

Held That in proceedings in partition the Circuit Court need not file a statement separating its findings of the law and facts in the case Judgment for sale of property affirmed—Smith & Grover for plff in error, Williams for deft in error

Geo C Robbins plff in error vs D S Baker deft in error

Held, That an answer averring that deft has not knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief, as to a material fact set up in the complaint not presumed to be within the deft's knowledge, is a good answer Judgment reversed—Williams for plff. in error, Logan for deft in error

S Coffin, Administrator, appellant vs D B Hannon appellee

Held That an administrator in a proceeding to revoke his letters is not personally chargeable with costs unless he appears to be in default as to his duties of administrator Decree modified—Shattuck & Williams for appellant, Grover & Logan for appellee

In the matter of A A Durham—habeas corpus

Held, that the military have no right to hold a minor enlisted without the consent of his father or guardian Judgment reversed—Smith & Bonham for plff in error, Shattuck for deft in error

E J Pelly, plff in error, vs E M Plomondon, deft in error

Held, That in an exchange or barter of a promissary note over due, for goods, the person receiving the note takes it at his own risk Judgment affirmed—Williams & Bonham for plff in error, Smith & Grover for deft in error

Leland & Stout, plffs in error vs The City of Portland, deft in error

Held, That a dedication of land to public uses, made by the occupant prior to the 27th of Sept, A D 1850, does not affect the right or title thereto, if not recognized or sanctioned by such occupant after the enactment of the Donation Law

Held, That where a map or plat is relied upon to show dedication it must appear that the owner of the soil in some way adopted or indorsed said map

Held, That an action at law for the possession of real property is a proper remedy to secure the possession of land claimed in the pleadings to be dedicated Judgment reversed—Williams for plff in error, Logan for deft in error.

William Gird plff in error vs Daniel Morehouse, deft in error —Held, That where a suit is brought in the County Court on a promissory note for a sum over which that Court has jurisdiction, and the defendant interposes an answer raising a question as to the title to real estate, the defendant cannot appeal the suit to the Circuit Court and have it dismissed for the want of jurisdiction in the County Court Judgment affirmed—Kelsey for plaintiff in error, Williams for defendant in error

Thos McMurray and wife appellants, vs S Coffin, Administrator, Apellee—Held, That in a suit for the specific performance of a parol contract to convey lands, the contract must be clearly proven Decree affirmed—Williams for appellant, Shattuck and Mitchell for appellee

Lownsdale, appellant, vs Chapman et al, appellees Continued, death of appellant suggested

Keith vs Quinney,—Motion to open and correct judgment—denied —Held, That there is no error upon the record, and that this Court cannot go back and change the record of judgment in the Court below —Williams for motion, Logan contra

Hopwood vs Patterson —A plea in abatement must specify the pendency of the former suit at the time of making the plea The plea in abatement must be pleaded previous to the answer upon the merits, and cannot be pleaded in the same answer Judgment affirmed without damages Dowell for plaintiff in error, Williams for defendant in error

Hamlin et al vs. Kenney et al In our Code, the Supplemental answer takes the place the plea puis darein continuance. All the questions in the Supplemental arise upon the motion to file it, and when filed it is in place of former pleas, inconsistent with it Sureties upon administration bonds cannot be sued until default had in the Probate Court against the principal Judgment reversed Dowell for plff in error, Williams for deft. in error

Burns vs Smith —The lien of the judgment of Burns does not attach to the latent interest of D C Ingles in the premises of which B R and W S Ingles hold the legal title That the lien of B F Smith by mortgage upon the premises, executed by D C Ingles, although the mortgage was fraudulently executed in part, is good and the mortgage should be amended and judgment affirmed Williams for appellant, Shattuck for appellee

Brown vs Brown, Judgment affirmed Attaching creditors do not stand in the same position as subsequent purchasers Unrecorded mortgages are preferred to attaching, or judgment creditors Mosher for appellant, Mallory for appellee

Starr vs Unger, Wolf & Co —That the sheriff is an officer who must act honestly and upon his own discretion —and should not be held liable when so acting, for fluctuations in market prices Judgment reversed and remanded for re hearing McGraw for plff in error, Holbrook for deft in error

Wright vs Lord & Co, That the verdict of the jury upon which the chancellor founded his decree in part, was insufficient to support the decree against Wright That Wright and and Mrs Whitmore not being included in the verdict, could not be held by the decree thus far Decree is reversed and case remanded for re hearing and completion of pleadings Williams & Kelsey for appellant, Mosher & Mallory for appellees

P Hibert appellant, vs Louis Ma[illegible] appellee The Court finds that there was an agreement to pay interest as stated in complaint Decree affirmed Williams for appellant, McGraw for appellee

B Shephard, plaintiff in error, vs The State of Oregon, defendant in error Judgment affirmed Logan for plaintiff in error Johnson for defendant in error

Bruner & Co plaintiffs in error, vs W R Davis, defendant in error. Argued continued. Williams for plaintiffs in error. McGraw for defendant in error

John D Boon appellant, vs John B McLane appellee Continued —Williams for appellant Smith & Grover for appellee

Parson Brownlow's Emancipation in South Carolina —Parson Brownlow is known to be a decided pro slavery man but he is not one of the sort who are thrown into a spasm of indignation every time the word freedom is mentioned He tells you merely in reply, of the practical difficulties of emancipation, and it would seem, from a conversation he had lately with the editor of the N Y Evangelist, that he is not unwilling to see the experiment tried. The Evangelist says

As we had the privilege of meeting him in private a few evenings since, we took occasion to sound him on this point, wishing to see if he was as touchy on this subject as some loyal men at the South, who profess to love the Union much but seem to love slavery more Parson Brownlow, we are happy to say, is not one of that sort Though, as a Southern man, he sees all the practical difficulties in the way, and is disposed to move slowly and cautiously he is not at all frightened by the "mad dog" cry of Abolitionist! One of his suggestions struck us as showing so much of shrewdness and common sense that we cannot keep it back He said "As emancipation was an experiment, he thought it would be well before trying it on a large scale, to begin with a single State, and he would suggest that, just by way of experiment, to see how it would work they should begin with South Carolina There he would like to see the Government emancipate the slaves, and confiscate the other property of the rebels and turn them out to grass"

Gen Butler compelling a Southerner to Pay his Northern Debts —Gen. Butler in New Orleans has seized about $50 000 worth of property belonging to one Cocke, a rich citizen of that place and a violent Secessionist The property will be confiscated Before the war commenced, he announced publicly that he would never pay a dollar of his Northern debts Among his creditors was Gen (late Major) Anderson of Kentucky, the defender of Fort Sumpter, to whom Cocke owed $25,000 or $30,000 Gen Butler, I presume, will see that Gen Anderson gets the money due him

News from China —After the capture of Ningpo by the French and English allies, assisted by the Canton piratical fleets, the pirates were allowed to plunder the city, and murder the people in cold blood

Tsing Pod, a stronghold of the insurgents near Shanghae, has fallen The rebels made a stubborn resistance

The Canton pirates recaptured Shanghae at the mouth of the river Ningpo

Communication from Levi Anderson to S Coffin

Portland, July 23 1862.

DEAR SIR In reply to your interrogatory in relation to the acceptance on my part of the position of Clerk of the Common Council of the City of Portland, in case a vacancy should arise and also in reference to the salary. I have to state that I deem the present salary of $400 per annum a full and adequate compensation for any service said Council might legitimately impose upon him and in the event of a vacancy I should be pleased to avail myself of the position. Respectfully

L. ANDERSON

S Coffin Esq

The City of Portland, ss—I certify the foregoing communication was presented to the Board of Common Council by S Coffin read and ordered published.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

THE MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store and at Charles Barrett's, Front street

SAD ACCIDENT —A laborer by the name of Fowler, while excavating dirt from the bank preparatory for cellar and basement story of a brick building, to be erected by C S Kingsley, on the levee at the foot of Alder Street met with a sad accident Saturday morning by the sudden falling in of a large quantity of dirt and rocks which struck and fractured the right leg and putting out of joint an ankle of the unfortunate man, probably crippling him for life We noticed a subscription going round Saturday evening for the relief of Mr Fowler, but do not know the amount raised, we believe, however, that a very generous donation was made by our citizens for his relief

SAILED —The steamship Pacific sailed Saturday evening about 9 o'clock for San Francisco, via Victoria, taking some 80 passengers and $50,000 in treasure by Wells, Fargo & Co., and $40,000 by other shippers

NOTHING LATER —The stage last evening brought nothing later from the seat of war

THEATRE —The Pride of the Market at the Theatre Saturday evening [illegible] as well executed as we had hoped to witness, owing probably to want of time to properly rehearse and commit the different parts. The best, and in fact the only redeeming feature of the evening's entertainment, was the singing of Miss Belle Divine and Miss Virginia Lawrence, each of whom received enthusiastic encores from the audience We also notice too much laughing and loud talking among the actors upon the stage during the performance which produced a bad effect upon what might otherwise been more attractive We maintain that all unnecessary and indecorous conduct upon the stage should be avoided as much as possible, We hope they may do better hereafter, and doubtless they will See advertisement for Tuesday night.

TAX BILL.—Of the Tax Bill passed by Congress, the New York Herald says

The taxes imposed are of the following different classes, viz

First—A tax on persons and corporations engaged in certain pursuits, for licenses.

Second—A tax on manufactured articles, products, etc, to be paid by the manufacturer or producer when he sells such articles or products.

Third—A duty on incomes of individuals, railroad and steamboat companies, public officers and others.

Fourth—Duties to be paid for stamps, which the bill requires to be affixed to certain papers, medicines, documents, etc

The Tax Bill is to go into effect on the first of August A large portion of the people of the Northern States will be called on for the income tax, concerning the payment of which an erroneous impression is prevalent It is not to be paid immediately, on the income and profits of the year already passed, but will become due on the first of May, 1863, and is to be levied on the income of the year proceding. A limit is placed to the time in which the tax shall be in operation, the date fixed for it to cease being 1866

The Conference Committee agreed on most of the amendments proposed by the Senate Some questions in which the two houses of Congress differed were settled by compromise

In the passage of the bill through the Senate a change was made, important both to the tax paying community and to those seeking offices. The amount of compensation fixed for Assessors (one of the principle classes of officers) by the House was three dollars per day, and one dollar for each hundred names on the tax lists furnished by them to the Collectors. This sum was increased to five dollars per day, the commission on the names remaining the same. The compensation allowed these officers will amount to a large sum in the national expenditures, for if there should be but 50,000 taxable persons in each assessment district it would reach, for each one, the sum of $2,000 per annum.

The Herald shows that manufacturers are taxed heavier than any other class, as they pay three per cent, on the amount of all their sales, and then on their incomes if over the sum named in the bill. The compensation for collecting the taxes seems larger than it ought to be. It will amount to a big sum in the United States.

A Union Soldier's Revenge.—Recently while the troops who were released by the rebel authorities at Salisbury, N. C., were being paid off at Governor's Island for their services, a remarkable incident occurred which has not been previously published. The prisoners who were to go to Fort Pulaski were quartered on one portion of the Island, which is guarded by sentries who refuse any one to pass their lines. One Irishman, however, a member of the Sixty-ninth New York Regiment, anxiously gazed [illegible] for a considerable time and subsequently addressed the Sergeant of the Guard [illegible]:

"Sergeant, will you let me [illegible]? I see my brother [illegible] among the prisoners [illegible] in the Southern army. Can I [illegible] speak to him?"

The Sergeant, struck with the novelty of the case, permitted the private inside. A few minutes afterward, the brothers were engaged in a Cain and Abel encounter, and soon after the rebel rolled in the sand with the Union man uppard. The "chivalry" soon gathered around their fallen comrade, but the Sixty-ninth man beat a hasty retreat and was soon lost among the group of soldiers of his regiment, who witnessed the encounter. He then told the following story:

"I said the rebel blackguard was my brother because that was the only way I could get to speak to him. I'll tell you what he done on me. While I was imprisoned at Richmond he was guard over us and hit me twice with the butt end of his musket on the neck. But I've just given him harder cracks than he gave me."

Artemas Ward on Courting.—We extract the following from Artemas Ward's lecture on "The children of the wood":

Advertising for a wife is about as absurd as getting measured for an umbrella. It is absurd—it is mean—and I suspect that the most of those fellows who adopt that method of securing domestic bliss ought to hammer stone in some well regulated penitentiary.—Once in a while, however, there may be a simple minded but unfortunate young man among these advertisers, and to whom the lecturer would say, why advertise? There is probably some young lady of your acquaintance for whom you have a certain regard. Why not go to her boldly, and tell her there is a commodious apartment to let in your heart, with board? If you get the mitten, do not despair but charge gallantly elsewhere for another mitten. You may as well have a pair of mittens. One mitten is of no possible use. I know of a young man out west who has got mittens enough to go peddling, and he is yet healthy.

Don't be bashful, young man. Don't be like the young person who rode ten miles in a sleigh with a pretty girl one bright moonlight night, with the intention of popping the question, but all he said, was:

"It is quite moony to night."
"Yes," she replied, "muchly."
And there wasn't another word said.

Alden's Type-Setting Machine.—This invention, regarding which paragraphs have been floating around in the newspapers for several years, has at last reached completion, and is now in practical operation. Alden was a native of Massachusetts, but lived in New York city, engaged as a printer and devising this machine, which cost him twenty years of labor and forty thousand dollars in money, while the inventor died without reaping the benefit of his invention. By means of this mechanical type setter, type (both letters and punctuation marks) is picked up, properly placed in the composing stick, and distributed after use, the operator producing these effects by manipulation of the keys, one person thus doing the work of six or eight compositors.—The price of this remarkable machine is five hundred dollars, and already a number have been ordered for some of the leading printing and newspaper establishments in New York. A specimen will be sent to the London Exhibition.

Shrewd Forgery.—Col. Buchanan Cross, the notorious forger, recently wrote an order for his release from prison, and signed the name of Secretary Stanton thereto. The document claimed that Cross was wanted by the Government for secret service. The forgery was so skillfully done that Gov. Curtin pardoned Cross. The Marshal took him to Washington and into Secretary Stanton's presence, where amidst much consternation the trick was discovered. But as it is not certain that Gov. Curtin's pardon can be revoked, the adroit Col. will finish the rest of his term in Fort Lafayette, by virtue of extemporized law.

The Chinese Government has hired a fleet of gunboats from England. They are to be officered and manned by Englishmen, whose pay will be provided for by the Chinese. Each gunboat is to be under the command of a Lieutenant of the royal navy, the pay of whom is to be seven hundred pounds per annum.—There will be six of these commands, the whole under the orders of a Captain, Superintendent or Commodore, with a salary of three thousand pounds a year.

"Speaking of bathing," says Mrs. Partington from behind the steam that arose from her tea, as a veil to her blushes when touching upon so delicate a subject, "some can bathe with perfect impunity in water cold as Greenland's icy mountains and India's coral strands, but, for my part, I prefer to have the water a little torpid."

Not Bad.—"Sir," said the Doctor to the Judge, "the conduct of England toward our Government is infamous and will never be forgiven. She has completely destroyed all affection for our mother country—she has cut the umbilical cord." "True," said the Judge, "and thereby lost her naval supremacy."

When the Fifty-fifth New York regiment was ordered to retreat at Fair Oaks to give place to the Sixty-second, an Irish private from the former quietly took his place among the Sixty-second with the smiling salutation, as he looked to the cap on the lock of his musket, "Byes, I am wid ye!"

"When I can read my title clear"—"Good God! here is a Yankee!" So sang and exclaimed a feminine rebel in a Norfolk church lately, as in the midst of her hymn she looked around and saw a Federal officer in the same seat.

Many a married soldier goes through a campaign without a scratch, and that's better than he might do at home.—Louisville Journal.

Chivalry—Old and New.—Voltaire relates that, in the great battle of Fontenoy, fought in 1745 between the French on one side and the English and their allies on the other, when the English Guards had advanced to within fifty paces of the position of the French Guards, the English officers raised their hats in salutation, which the French officers returned in the same style. Lord Charles Hay, who commanded the English Guards, then advanced to the front and called out, "Gentlemen of the French Guards, fire!" To which Count d'Auteroche replied, "Gentlemen of the English Guards, we never take the first shot; do you fire."

At the late battle of Fair Oaks, before Richmond, Gen. Richardson, who was thrown forward to the support of Casey's division, says:

"Along towards the middle of the day the enemy, preceded by a column of 30,000 of the best troops, with the dashing corps of G. W. Smith and Longstreet at its head, commenced a furious assault upon the most salient point of our line, viz: the redoubt and entrenched camp of Casey's division.

"A singular circumstance occurred in this battle, which deserves particular mention. The first regiment of the enemy which came into action wore blue clothes like our men, and as they came into action opposite the 81st Pennsylvania regiment, Col. Miller, they said, 'Do not fire, we are Owen's men.' Owen's regiment is one of Birney's brigade on my left.

"Col. Miller's regiment had taken aim, but now recovered arms. They instantly poured in a deadly volley, by which Miller was killed. The wing to the left of the 81st poured in their fire, by which that regiment fell in piles. The Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel, Major and Adjutant all fell, and the balance of the regiment broke."

Lord Charles Hay and the Count d'Auteroche were among the bravest of the brilliant chivalry of their day. G. W. Smith and Longstreet are looked upon as among the preux chevaliers of the Southern chivalry of our own. But chivalry is changed.—N. Y. Post.

General Butler's policy at New Orleans has been such as even to extort praise from the rebels themselves. We have a copy of the Memphis Avalanche, in which General Butler's distribution of food among the poor is thus alluded to: "This wily and able man in appealing to the prejudices of the poor, and the discontent of those whose property was justly sacrificed to a military necessity, is appealing to the strongest feeling that a mere earthly ruler can invoke. His acts and promises are such as must decoy many from their allegiance, and we cannot help thinking it might be sound policy in us to feed our poor here in Memphis, who are many, and in lieu of destroying to distribute."

LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a tight lock stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

[illegible]

[illegible] night fall were by involuntary discharges have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and to commend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April, A. D. 1856. Signed
L. S. JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

Marysville, June 3d, 1855.

Dr. L. J. Czapkay, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute, with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the Incentive to gratitude.

Certificate.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the existence of my miseries. While in this state, and having, previous to my affliction, lost all my [illegible], I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and [illegible] to reward him for his services; regardless [illegible] he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician who [illegible] placed.
